What users say...

“

'In my career as a librarian I have not found many resources about which I could actually say "I cannot do without this", but I can say this about Europe in the Round.'

Sean Prior, ERC, Southern Area Professional Centre, Worthing

'This is a very impressive disc, simple to use, full of relevant, useful information.....I am most impressed with the way in which the title has developed. If you have not seen it, I strongly urge you to take advantage of the...trial option...'

Review, The School Librarian

We use Europe in the Round successfully over a large network for Year 7 classes right through to GNVQ and 'A' level.'

Mrs Hopson, Librarian, George Abbot School, Guildford

The disc is informative, versatile, cross-curricular, user-friendly and very heavily used...We like it, it is good.'

Staff and students, Aylesbury High School, Bucks

'Invaluable for anyone doing Leisure and Tourism and Business Studies. Provides an excellent range of information and good level of detail. The students can find information straight away and within 5 minutes of using Europe in the Round are using it effectively. Useful for all levels of GNVQ and GCSE. Also for key skills.'

Shirley Westwood, Helenswood School, Hastings

'Useful across the board, not just for GNVQ with Europe options. For example on ACCESS courses and professional studies (including Planning Studies). It is also very easy to use and is visually attractive to students. This disc would come top of our list alongside the newspaper discs.'

Mrs Val Graham, Librarian, Manchester College of Arts and Technology

'Europe in the Round' was our most successful CD ROM last year. I did not need to write any explanatory or training leaflets. Within days of being on the network it was being enthusiastically recommended by several teachers. Within a week it was being accessed by hundreds of students as part of their lessons and projects. ...An easy-to-use source of information for staff and students on a wide range of courses and we are still finding new applications.'

Mr John Riley, SEEVIC College, Essex

What Subscriptions Allow

Europe in the Round is supplied on annual subscription, which includes two editions (on CD-ROM format for the PC platform) during a 12 month period.

Definition of 'site licence use'

The software may be used on an unlimited number of computers within the site, including across a local area network. For these purposes the term 'site' refers to a single building, or group of buildings, located at a single address (e.g. where an institution has different building 'blocks' within a single location, this is classified as a site).

Where an institution is spread across more than one geographical location, each with a different postal address, such institutions would be deemed as separate sites. In such circumstances each site would be required to make a separate purchase.

Linking of sites across a Wide Area Network

Where an institution has linked several of its sites across a Wide Area Network, Vocational Technologies has adopted the policy that the first site will pay the full standard price for the product; second and subsequent sites each pay half the standard price.

Licence Agreement

Europe in the Round is licensed, not sold to you, by Vocational Technologies Ltd (hereafter VT) for use only on the terms stated below. VT retains proprietary rights in all copies and formats of the software itself, although you own the disc(s) on which the software is recorded.

1. A site licence allows you to use this software (and copies thereof) on any number of personal computers (IBM-compatible) including across a local area network, provided that all are on a single site ie normally within one building. For a wide area network you need an extended licence from VT.
2. You may not use the software for any commercial purpose, including making charges for loans or printouts, without first obtaining an extended licence from VT (Public libraries are deemed to have such an extended licence).
3. You may not make copies of this software for anyone else nor for use outside the site to which your licence refers. You may sell or give away your software to a third party only if that party agrees to be bound by these terms and conditions and only if you pass on the complete documentation with the software having first destroyed any copies of software or documentation that may have been made.
4. You may make Collections from this software by the method prescribed provided that you retain and respect our Copyright notice on any such Collections. You may copy statistical and other data, and pictures, and may manipulate these using suitable software, but may not publish the manipulated data or picture without first obtaining an extended licence from VT.

This software is supplied 'as is'. VT makes no warranty as to its fitness for any particular purpose. Nor can we give any warranty that the data in this system is or can remain up-to-date, accurate and comprehensive, nor accept any responsibility for any consequences of any errors which may exist, however they are caused.

All rights reserved. Except as specified above, no part of the software or its documentation may be reproduced, stored on a retrieval system or transmitted in any form or by any means, electronic, mechanical, photocopying, recording or otherwise without VT's prior written permission.

If you are in any doubt whatsoever about these conditions, please contact VT since a breach of these conditions could result in a criminal as well as a civil offence being committed.

What's new in Europe in the Round HTML version 10 includes:

Technical development: The flag bar has been modified to include Croatia as a Candidate country and to move Liechtenstein into the EFTA section. The new flag for Georgia has been included. There is a new access to screens relevant to Citizenship and to maps screens.

Content: There is a continued rolling programme of adding content to the 10 new Members States (and three candidate countries - Bulgaria, Romania and Turkey) to bring them in line with the pre-enlargement 15. Additional information has been added in this version under the headings of Leisure (Tourist areas map, Sports), Business (Exporting and promotion, Taxation), Economy (National Budget, Personal incomes), Work (General advice, Working hours and time off, Wages, Social security, Health and safety, Labour relations), Geography (Location of cities), Education (Pre-primary and primary, Secondary, Tertiary, Financing of Education, Education and employment).

Elections and referenda:

Content: Election results for each constituency and summaries by region are given for the UK General Election of May 2005. Recent elections in many other countries have been incorporated. Referenda and parliamentary decisions on the European Constitution have been included. MPs expenses for the UK have been included.

Worksheets: Three new Citizenship worksheets (two directly related to the UK General Election) have been added with suggestions on how they might be used for Citizenship lessons.

General updating:

Content: Major updates and rewrites in Living (Housing and households, Cost of living, Crime), Business (Taxation), Education (Pre-primary and primary, Secondary, Tertiary, Financing of Education, Universities, Education and employment), Economy (National Budget, Personal incomes). Urban audit for 186 cities have been included.

Addition of 150 copyright free photographs, bringing the total to over 2,700.
